

HOW SHE SAVED HIM

Miss Louise Writes of Her Rescuing Drowning

To W. R. Hearst, New York:—I had just returned from downtown, and was standing on the corner in front of our house. My home is at the foot of Fifth street, on the bank, which slopes down to the East River. Just as I turned to leave the dock I heard a crowd of little boys shouting excitedly, "Help! He's overboard! He's drowning!"

I looked hurriedly around and saw a little boy struggling in the water. At that moment he sank. The boy rose and sank again. I knew he would come up just once more, and I knew that I could save him. I was fully dressed, I wore a hat pinned tightly to my hair, a shirt waist and a very heavy skirt. The skirt was lined with hareluck. I knew the water where the little boy was struggling was twenty feet deep, and I knew the heavy skirt would weigh me down, but I had to act quickly.

I dropped one parcel, dodged under the rail, ran down the cliff and leaped into the water. My heavy skirt clung to me, and at first I found it hard to swim. To get free from it I had to turn on my back. I had to swim six or seven strokes, and when I got to the little boy he was just disappearing under the water.

I reached for him quickly and caught him by the hair. He seemed to leap out of the water and clutched me tightly on the arm with both his hands. The mark is on my arm yet. He pulled the down with him, and I had to take a long breath. I could not force him to let go, but I held my hand as high as possible and kept his head out of the water. Then with my other hand I swam into shore. My skirt bothered me dreadfully, but Officer Kelly and Jerry Ryan, who were waiting for me to come in, pulled the little boy on shore. Then I climbed up on the plank and went home.

But if I am called upon again to save any one from drowning, I hope I will not have on a heavy hareluck skirt. I think every girl and woman should know how to swim. That knowledge should be part of their education. If private enterprise does not establish swimming schools, then the city should. Of course, we have a few public swimming baths now, but they are so few as to only emphasize the need for more.

I have lived beside it all my life, and I should know how to swim. I taught myself, began to paddle, did not appreciate it at the foot of the cliff. In those days the neighborhood was very different. I did not fear it. I went out from under me. I was small that if I myself for a while I could save a grown man from drowning after a person from the cribble, deadly, rowing man. Every case for rowing man when second time. He is just about the same. Then he is easily at by merely hand in front must be kept in to be accomplished slightly up.

DERICKS. RIS COVE he Requot ature

The dancing to hang are on Tuesday house was ee intrusted erman. The te and taste were charin.

F. A. Ben- Kersporger, I and Mrs. adberg, Mr. N. Chinn- born, Mrs. Todd, Jr., O. Staples, and Mrs. O. Brown. The gentlemen's prizes were distributed as follows: First prize, Horace McFarland; second prize, Howard A. Perkins; third prize, A. Perkins.

My experience in saving Henry Reinsteins was exciting. I had just returned from downtown, and was standing on the corner in front of our house. My home is at the foot of Fifth street, on the bank, which slopes down to the East River. Just as I turned to leave the dock I heard a crowd of little boys shouting excitedly, "Help! He's overboard! He's drowning!"

I looked hurriedly around and saw a little boy struggling in the water. At that moment he sank. The boy rose and sank again. I knew he would come up just once more, and I knew that I could save him. I was fully dressed, I wore a hat pinned tightly to my hair, a shirt waist and a very heavy skirt. The skirt was lined with hareluck. I knew the water where the little boy was struggling was twenty feet deep, and I knew the heavy skirt would weigh me down, but I had to act quickly.

I dropped one parcel, dodged under the rail, ran down the cliff and leaped into the water. My heavy skirt clung to me, and at first I found it hard to swim. To get free from it I had to turn on my back. I had to swim six or seven strokes, and when I got to the little boy he was just disappearing under the water.

I reached for him quickly and caught him by the hair. He seemed to leap out of the water and clutched me tightly on the arm with both his hands. The mark is on my arm yet. He pulled the down with him, and I had to take a long breath. I could not force him to let go, but I held my hand as high as possible and kept his head out of the water. Then with my other hand I swam into shore. My skirt bothered me dreadfully, but Officer Kelly and Jerry Ryan, who were waiting for me to come in, pulled the little boy on shore. Then I climbed up on the plank and went home.

But if I am called upon again to save any one from drowning, I hope I will not have on a heavy hareluck skirt. I think every girl and woman should know how to swim. That knowledge should be part of their education. If private enterprise does not establish swimming schools, then the city should. Of course, we have a few public swimming baths now, but they are so few as to only emphasize the need for more.

I have lived beside it all my life, and I should know how to swim. I taught myself, began to paddle, did not appreciate it at the foot of the cliff. In those days the neighborhood was very different. I did not fear it. I went out from under me. I was small that if I myself for a while I could save a grown man from drowning after a person from the cribble, deadly, rowing man. Every case for rowing man when second time. He is just about the same. Then he is easily at by merely hand in front must be kept in to be accomplished slightly up.

DERICKS. RIS COVE he Requot ature

The dancing to hang are on Tuesday house was ee intrusted erman. The te and taste were charin.

F. A. Ben- Kersporger, I and Mrs. adberg, Mr. N. Chinn- born, Mrs. Todd, Jr., O. Staples, and Mrs. O. Brown. The gentlemen's prizes were distributed as follows: First prize, Horace McFarland; second prize, Howard A. Perkins; third prize, A. Perkins.

My experience in saving Henry Reinsteins was exciting. I had just returned from downtown, and was standing on the corner in front of our house. My home is at the foot of Fifth street, on the bank, which slopes down to the East River. Just as I turned to leave the dock I heard a crowd of little boys shouting excitedly, "Help! He's overboard! He's drowning!"

COMFORT AT BELMAR.

The Summer Guests Solve the Problem to Their Entire Satisfaction.

Belmar, Aug. 7.—It has been a study this week with the summer visitors as to how to best subserve their comfort and still enjoy the ceaseless round of gaiety and diversions offered for their delectation by the apartment hotels of which they are guests. The hot weather drove them into the surf, and baked them when they came out to dry on the sands, so as a rule the preference has been for a quiet stay around the shady grounds.

The success of the new ocean pier is now assured, and in a short time the piling will commence to go down. It will be the beginning of one of the best enterprises that Belmar has seen. The contract has been awarded, and the $4,000 it will cost to build has already been subscribed.

The August influx has begun, and with another week, from present indications, coats, pegs, and hat racks will command a premium. A. C. Studer, Montclair, N. J., is, with his family, occupying the Johnson cottage on Seventh avenue for the remainder of the season.

Captain J. S. Watson, superintendent of the Cunard Steamship Line, with his wife, is enjoying seaside comforts at the Hotel Columbia. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnson, Brooklyn, are at Melrose Inn.

Among this week's arrivals at the hotels are the following: Colorado—Mrs. J. C. Julien, Blanche Julien, Rose Claire Zouvan, Mrs. C. V. Hoffman, Mabel Hoffman, A. E. Willis, D. W. Weston, O. Gensler. Melrose Inn—Frederick W. Hallam, A. D. Tansopolis, M. Mitranaga, M. M. Pomeroy, Marie Koester, Russell Johnson and wife, J. Edward Hager, Walter Field, Robert N. Oliphant, Pierre M. Hooper.

Winsor—A. W. Wheeler, Mrs. E. B. Bolls, George Case, George W. Williams, Miss J. E. Woodruff, Mrs. L. Morton and son, Miss M. D. Camden.

ISLAND HEIGHTS SERVICES.

The Regular Camp Meeting is Ended, and the Auditorium Closes Sept. 1.

Island Heights, Aug. 7.—The people who came here for the cure alike of soul and body have found the camp session, which has just ended, one of the most successful that Island Heights has ever known. The interest never flagged for a moment, and, although at other parts of the day the weather has been oppressive, during the hours for service we have been favored, day after day, with refreshing breezes.

Sunday evening Rev. J. W. Blaisdell preached the sermon that closed the series of the regular camp meeting. During the month of August services will be held in the Auditorium, after which it will be closed until another year.

George Bolster, New York, is at the Island House. Professor Charles M. Bakewell, of Harvard, accompanied by Miss Mary D. Bakewell, Riverside, Cal., and Miss Bakewell, Pittsburg, Pa., are enjoying the Summer days at the Perennial.

Mrs. J. Lewis, Frederick Lewis and Miss I. Lewis, West Orange, are guests at the Island House. Charles W. Brooke is a New Yorker who is enjoying life at the Perennial.

John D. McIlhenny and Lieutenant H. T. Todd, Jr., U. S. A., are at the cottage of Colonel Francis J. Crilley. James H. Puente is among the Brooklyn guests at the Island House.

Among the arrivals at the Perennial are: John J. Haffecker, E. C. Cozens, H. H. Gresham, William Glasgow, Jeanie H. DeRousse, Mrs. Louis R. DeRousse, N. Y. DeRousse, Mrs. Walter Webb, Joseph Shallock Webb, Marnack Decker, Mr. and Mrs. Home, Miss McGurran, Mrs. Harvey Gillingham, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Gatchel, Miss Cozens, Miss Helen Cozens.

OCEAN CITY CHAUTAUQUANS

It Was a Big Week for the Jersey Members of the Organization.

Ocean City, Aug. 7.—This has been a big week for the Chautauquans at this resort. The ninth annual session of the Chautauqua Assembly of New Jersey convened here on Saturday in the Auditorium and Young People's Temple. Fully five hundred persons assembled to hear the addresses of the various speakers, among whom were Colonel James M. Scovill, Rev. H. M. Gilbert and Rev. William Spencer. The session lasted three days.

Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, Philadelphia, preached at the Auditorium last Sunday. Richard Peitz, Philadelphia, is here. A progressive anchor party took place at the Brighton Friday evening. The winners of the ladies' prizes were: First prize, Mrs. Houston; second prize, Mrs. James A. Ambler; third prize, Mrs. Edward Bollen; consolation prize, Mrs. William Street, Jr. The gentlemen's prizes were distributed as follows: First prize, Horace McFarland; second prize, Howard A. Perkins; third prize, A. Perkins.

LOUISE FREDERICK IN SWIMMING GOS- TIE.

ury, Pa., is here with his family. George C. Hagner and Charles Parmalee, Philadelphia, are here enjoying the fishing. The General William Lilly Guard, Jr. O. A. M., of Philadelphia, visited the ore early in the week.

Dr. Albert Cable, Pottsville, Pa., is here to his family. A closely contested anchor party took place Tuesday evening. The prize winners were: First lady's prize, Miss Meta Baker; and lady's prize, Miss Jenks; third prize, Mrs. S. P. Jenks, C. E. Shyn, New York, won first gentlemen's prize; Dr. Theodore Foote, second prize, Arthur Radcliffe, third prize.

July Beach, Aug. 7.—The Alexis Camp-Club, Philadelphia, is encamped in a e of cedar trees near the beach. and Mrs. Victor Judge, New York, a located in their pretty home near the b. and Mrs. Carl Haswin, New York, known in the theatrical world, are en- g life in their pleasant home. The H es.

fishing has been excellent all the and hundreds of fine big weakfish been caught. Fred Lertz, John it and Harry Franks caught 200 in day's fishing on Tuesday.

AL FORKED RIVER FISHES.

atches Are Not Hard to Make and the Anglers Have Fine Sport.

1 River, Aug. 7.—Fishing was at Forked River than now, girls take an active part in the fishing. Birchett and William F. Inaloe, summering at the Parker House, eighty-one big weakfish Monday. Vackenhuth, Carl Wackenhuth and Kreisher, Newark anglers at the captured thirty-six large blue- fish, string of weakfish and a number during an outing on the bay this week.

ymen James J. Hogan, of New- g pigeon was caught on the rig- wreck Imperial by a number River guests one day last week. band with the mark "T. 5348." House arrivals are John Brock- rry M. Lockinsh, Frank Maloney, George W. Trelease, S. Brecken- us A. Fielder, William Hove, t. James J. Hogan, V. Y. Hed- Hedden, A. B. Hedden, H. S. K. Wallace.

ouse—Charles E. Leonard, En- J. H. Farshay, C. D. Ward, C. E. Reed, Charles Beers, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Ash, ash, Lincoln Welles, M. Con- Fred C. Wackenhuth, Meta John P. Ambrose. use—William C. Sullivan, W. r. Henry, James Jennings, F. J. A. R. Ledoux, Louis W. Thoman, Louis Roth, R. H. acer Scott, D. Thorman.

LOAF AT TICONDEROGA.

ns Fish and Bathe and Rest Do Nothing.

N. Y., Aug. 7.—Fishing and occupied the attention of s this week. In fact, the sen of such a nature that ubition to do anything else. trivals at the Phoenix this d Mrs. Wallhead, Pough- Mrs. Stanley H. Chad- own, Brooklyn; Mr. and m, Miss G. M. Topping, Mrs. W. L. Allen, Miss as Allen, Miss L. McKen- Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leonard, New York; L.

WILDWOOD BEACH EVENTS.

A Donkey Party and Old Time Virginia Reel Make One Even- ing Memorable.

Wildwood Beach, Aug. 7.—Perhaps more money is spent at some of the great Sum- mer resorts and more diamonds are worn, but nobody has any more fun than the people at Wildwood Beach. On Monday even- ing the guests at the Dayton were treated to a donkey party. The prizes were won by Miss Ethel Hardcastle, New York; Miss Alexina Jenks and R. S. Stevens, Philadel- phia. The party was brought to a close with a genuine old-fashioned Virginia reel. Congressman Simon P. Wolverton, Sum-

FEATURES OF LIFE IN THE CATSKILLS.

Catskill, N. Y., August 7.—This is a dear, dear place. Niagara Falls can no longer hold the record for high prices. The charges made here for everything are as sublime as the blue peaks above us. The further up you go the more you pay for commodities and necessities. Luxuries are not to be thought of. The simple-minded farmer charges you a dollar to bring you to his house, where the view has to com- pensate for the want of all other earthly blessings.

Coming down to New York on Monday morning you see people all over the train, from the Pullman to the freight car, do- ing sums on bits of paper and on the mar- gins of newspapers. If there were a shrub- bery attached to the parlor cars I feel positive there would be as many suicides as there are at Monte Carlo. Perhaps a suicide car from the Catskills will be one of the improvements that the West Shore road will put on in the near future, if they pretend to think of the comfort of their patrons.

Charles Frohman is at the Kaaterskill giving an imitation of a Summer Man. With him is C. D. Dillingham, and to- gether these two sit out on the piazza and look down at the Hudson Valley and won- der if it is not possible to dramatize it in some way. Mr. Frohman enjoys the scenery immensely. He is not like many theatrical managers. He tells a story of one certain New York manager whose whiskers have gained an international reputation for him. This manager was on board a sleeper go- ing through one of the most magnificent Western valleys. The sun was rising in superb style, and his friends came in and woke him.

"Get up and take a look at it," he said, enthusiastically, "it is the most magnif- icent scenery I ever saw!"

The manager turned over in his berth dis- gustedly. "Scenery!" he said. "Now, what do I care for scenery? Haven't I two car- loads on this train?"

They tell a story of one of the big Catskill hotels—a story which has to be whispered here. A guest from New York came in one day, walked up to the desk and asked for the register. The clerk pushed it over to him.

The man hastily scanned the page: "Rein- enheimer, Nellistener, Oberheiner," he re- marked. "Look here, I asked for the reg- ister; not for the list of Rhine wines."

Some of the scenery has to be turned up here. Somehow, it takes all the glory out of it. You hear people raving about the Kaaterskill Falls, and you drive over prepared to see a glorious cataract of water tumbling down a mighty wall of rock. You nerve yourself for a thrilling spectacle. The reality is this: You get over the place and you listen for the roar of the cataract. You don't hear it. Then you learn that you must pay about a week's salary. It is a beautiful sight.

There is just one thing up here that ap- peals to the New Yorker who arrives will- ing from the city's heat. The nights are deliciously cool and clear, the mornings too cold for comfort without heavy wraps and the days are dreamy pleasant times with mountain breezes making the tem- perature just right. Each night this week we have had to have big roaring log fires on the hearths and have had extra blankets on the beds. Heavy pawns are worn dur- ing the day, and at the evening dances it is necessary to wear warm wraps and shawls over the dancing frocks. It is al- most impossible then to realize that New York is sweltering and sizzling under the sun. And plenty of people have discovered that this coolness is worth chasing.

There are over 700 guests now domiciled at the Kaaterskill. Strolling along the wide verandas of the hotel and through the immense rotunda one sees many faces that are familiar in both the business and social circles of New York, Philadelphia and the other large cities.

On Monday afternoon a match game of golf will be played by a team of picked players from the Kaaterskill and a team from the Laurel House. The game is sure to be a close one, as the players selected to represent the houses are both composed of old-time golfers and the spirit of rivalry is intense. Sunday evening a sacred concert will be given in the hotel.

Baseball matches are of frequent occur- rence here, and a game is being arranged with a club composed of the guests of the Old Catskill Mountain House for the com- ing week.

Among the arrivals of the week are E. P. G. Wright and family, F. H. Boyles, Mr. and Mrs. W. Spiegelberg, the Misses Speig- elberg, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Ellinger, Mrs. P. Rosenheim, Miss Rosenthal, D. E. W. P. Rosenheim, General and Mrs. T. H. Ruger, U. S. A.; Miss Ruger, Mr. and Mrs. William Fulgers, Joseph E. Middel, August Brentano, E. Blumenthal, Mr. and Mrs. Herman August, Mrs. M. August, Miss I. Beauville, Dr. C. Wofshrubek, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thebold, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. G. Clark, Samuel Bamler, Mrs. C. W. Hillier, Mrs. M. Sternberger, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney H. Salamon, Miss Hortense Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. A. H.

Feuchtwanger, E. G. Velth, B. Rosenwald, L. J. Strauss, L. W. Ahrens, New York. Pine Hill, Aug. 7.—The temperature has averaged 71 degrees during the past week and overcoats have been comfortable some of the evenings. A croquet tournament was held this week at the Rip Van Winkle House and was largely attended.

A bowling match has been arranged for Friday evening, August 14, between bowlers from Margaretville and the Mountain Inn (Pine Hill). Last Friday evening a game was bowled and was won by the Mar- garetville contingent.

Mrs. Henderson, Elizabeth, N. J., is at her cottage on Birch Creek. Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Thompson, Elizabeth, N. J., are here for the month of August.

At the Winterton are Miss Minnie Lam- bert, G. F. May, Mr. and Mrs. William Stoddart, Miss May Stoddart, Harold Stod- dard, Miss Frances A. Lee, Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Joslin, Schenectady; Miss Minnie F. Whitney, Kingston; V. P. Glimm, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Esterbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Noonan, Thomas F. Noon- an, Jr., Mrs. K. Malone and two children, Miss Bertha Seldie, J. P. Noonan, Miss Marie Noonan, Miss S. Brannan, Jersey City.

At the Mountain Inn are Miss Ada Kohl- mann, Miss Hattie Rosenwald, Miss Julia Levy, Mrs. David Stone, Miss Mabel Stone, M. Mayer, Miss R. Hartfield, Miss A. Springer, Mrs. H. Levy, Miss Estelle Levy, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Heyman, N. Feldstein, Miss M. Plasmacher, Mrs. S. Zeimer, A. A. Zeimer, M. Feldstein, Mrs. Selma Oppen- heim, Mrs. E. P. Adrian and Miss L. A. Adrien.

At the Floyd Cottage are: Frederick Con- nolly, Columbus, Ohio; Hiram Schoonmaker, New York; Mr. and Mrs. George Schwe- bens, the Misses Elizabeth and Augusta Gummert, Miss Elsie Gummert, Elizabeth; Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Joice, Miss Mary Joice, Joseph Joice, Francis Joice, Mrs. C. E. O. Hafa, Miss Cyril Joice, Brooklyn.

At the Hotel Ulster are: Mr. and Mrs. William Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sea- mon, Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Moran, Charles S. Goldsmith, Miss Nicholson, New York; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Alexander, Marjorie Alexander, Miss Bertha Alexander, Yonkers; Miss Duncan, Mrs. M. O. See, East Orange.

At the Orchard Park House are: H. Seldie, Mrs. J. Lange, Conrad and Edwin Lange, Miss Rupp, Mr. and Mrs. George Schmitt, J. Hendwerk, New York; F. J. Condon, Miss Condon, Mrs. J. B. Henry, Newark.

Hunter, Aug. 7.—Hunter is enjoying a prosperous season, and guests are arriving daily. At the Mount Prospect House are: Mrs. F. Schwedler, Miss Schwedler, Nyack; Rev. Charles B. Canly, Miss M. Flood, Yonkers; Mrs. Nicholas Cornell, Miss Lizzie Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Jones, Miss Ade- laide M. Jones, Miss Jennie Byrne, Miss Nellie Bigley, Andrew McGuire, Miss Fannie McGuire, Miss H. O'Brien, L. J. Lederer, Mrs. L. Lederer, Master Louie Lederer, Frank Lederer, Miss M. Burke, N. J.; N. Jones, Miss M. Hager, Mrs. M. Donahue, J. Donahue, E. Donahue, Miss L. Day, New York; Rev. Joseph Campbell, Staten Island; Rev. Thomas P. Flood, Tivoli.

Those summering at Jewett Centre and vicinity who have arrived during the past week are: J. W. Lacour, Montclair, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Conklin, Mrs. Buella, Mrs. Monteith, Mrs. W. R. Reaville, Miss Reaville, Miss M. Reaville, New York.

E. J. De Bell, of the Rosebud Agency, South Dakota, is here for a short time. Much interest centres in the races which are to be held at Tannersville August 10, 20, 21.

General George H. Sharpe, Kingston, was in town this week. At the Mountain House are: Mrs. M. Glass and family, Mrs. D. Nathan and family, Mrs. F. Krnkower, Mrs. B. Hirsch, Mrs. H. Steinberg, Mrs. S. Shidlovski and family; Mrs. J. Bloomberg and family, the Misses Sarah and Celia Krnkower, Max Feinman, New York; the Misses Ferd- nanda Sauger and Gertrude Beattie, Brook- lyn; Abe Gutlieb, Saratoga; Lazarus Myers, H. Pearlman, Orange, N. J.; Miss Grace Vernon, Troy; Miss Regina Smith, Brooklyn.

Among arrivals of the past week at Wind- ham are: Mrs. Ernest Tooth, Miss Josephine Tooth, Mrs. J. Paul Baker, Mrs. Stadlinar, Eugene Pastre, Miss Maude Mahlan, Miss Lavinia Walker, Brooklyn; Herbert Hous- ton, Charles Houston, Miss Alice Houston, Frank Osdorf, New York.

Dr. Frank W. C. Heppburn and wife, of New Rochelle, are at The Maples.

MUSIC AND FISH AT BARNEGAT

They Both Delight and Furnish Ample Amusement for Every One.

Barnegat, Aug. 7.—Musicians from Man- hawlin have been making music for those who delight in dancing the past week. Bluefish are in the bay and this makes fishing especially lively.

A happy party of New York local poli- ticians, led by Louis Roche, are at Hel- trich's.

Among the late arrivals are Mrs. Frances K. Cramer, Beardsley, Minn.; Mrs. Julia E. Smith, Jersey City; Miss Olive Brown, Belford; Miss Mary B. Cramer, Philadel- phia; Miss Martha King, Hightstown; Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Spader, Brooklyn; D. R. Frame, Philadelphia.

SARA THE MR

Saratoga generalia Saratoga modore V of a centu his Summ William H ed himself togian. Cor members of t occasional vis The fourth Cornelius Vai joying his hou The newly w of a centu United States remain for at assigned them were occupied They are in th A kodak sen shot at Mr. an Tuesday aftern out for a drive to Wo enial carriages were drawn p. l. The Division street entrance to the States Hotel, as it was the drivin The kodak man had never seen th and bride, and he asked everyb to point them out as they emerg the hotel. As a young man and w scended the steps and entered a vi practical joker nudged the kodak and whispered: "Now's your chan The amateur artist secured two "shots" before the carriage roll and soon departed with a triumph radiating from his countenam kodak hand reads this. He will to learn that Mr. Vanderbilt and did not leave the hotel until afi utes after he had departed, and snap shots taken by him are of no The popularity of the Saratoga lectures was shown by the gr creased attendance this week. "2 and Sphero of the State" was th of three lectures delivered by William R. Terrett, D. D., of College. "The Growth of Engi nology" was treated in a series of ures by Professor Waldo S. Prat Hartford Theological Seminary.

Four national bodies of dentis symposium here the better porti week. They included the American Association, the National School of Technics, the National Association tal Examiners and the National of Dental Faculties. Many of lists are members of all these bod as three of them were simultane session, it was difficult for them to in as many parts. Almost every s the Union was represented.

The twenty-fourth annual regatta National Association of Amateur o will attract a multitude of peopl atoga Lake on Wednesday and Wyandotte, of Michigan; the of Massachusetts; the "Brause case, N. Y.; the Island; the Vespee, the Detroit, of Michi adelphia, of Pennsylv of Massachusetts; the A. N. Y.; the Beverwycks, at the Delaware, of Pennsylv tos, of Canada; the Pennsylv adelphia, Pa.; the Argonauts, o Canada; the Dons, of Toronto, G Metropolitan, of New York Athletics, of New York City; t tutes, of Newark, N. J.; the State of New York; the Laureates, of Y.; and the Baltimore, of Maryland.

Several crews have already arriv are in active training at Saratoga La The ten races will include single sc shells, intermediate; single scull and double; double scull shells, intermedi double scull shells, senior; pair or shel senior; four-oar shells, intermediate; fo or shells, senior; four-oar shells, sen intermediate; eight-oar shells, interm ate; eight-oar shells, senior.

The Assembly Adirondack Forest serve Committee, of which Thomas Wagstaff, Brooklyn, is chairman, finis its conference here on Tuesday. And meeting will be held in New York t the middle of September. The othe bers of the committee are W. W. strong, of Rochester; J. B. Fitzgeral New York City; Taylor J. Eldridg Warrensburg, and J. P. Aldis, of Nor They recently returned from an exte tour of the Adirondacks, where the aimed some 300,000 acres of land t offered to the State. This committe submit its report to the next Legislat

A golf club has been organized, prime movers in which are both res and cottagers. The committee having charge includes Hons. F. M. Marvin, French, J. A. Mammur, E. M. Greer B. Huelsis, G. D. Cochran, W. D. Ell M. Livingston, Jr., and W. H. Mai It is hoped to have the grounds in ness by August 15.

So He Goes to Tom's Riv Clement—Why do you not prefer the York Summer resorts for your Summ hings? Is it on account of the R rains law? Vincent—Yes; even the p maidens have ceased to smile at

